School Out As Holiday Is Started

Thanksgiving recess begins today at noon and continues until Monday at 8 a.m.

There will be no edition of The Parthenon published on Friday. The next edition will appear next Wednesday.

The university library will be closed today at 4:15 p.m. and will reopen Monday at 8 a.m.

Library offices will be open on Friday and Saturday on the same schedule as other administrative offices (8 a.m. until noon and from 1 until 4:15 Friday and 8:30 a.m. until noon Saturday). The library will be open for the return of books and for limited service on Friday and Saturday.

The annual Thanksgiving dinner was served yesterday evening in the cafeteria. The menu consisted of turkey and cube steak, sweet and mashed potatoes, baked corn, peas, cranberry relish, tossed salad, Pumpkin pie, ice cream, and mince pie were served for dessert.

Thirty-eight turkeys ranging from 30 to 40 pounds were used by the cafeteria.

The Campus Christian Fellowship and Sigma Phi Epsilon social Fraternity worked together yesterday and conducted a Thanksgiving program in the ODK Circle.

All administrative offices will be closed tomorrow.

Team Of 4 Investigates Program For Women

A four-member federal fact-finding team from Washington spent Thursday and Friday in Huntington for exploratory meetings on a second stage Area Redevelopment Administration program designed especially for the training of women.

The party of women consisted of Miss Edna Amidon, director of the home economics branch of the U.S. Office of Education; Mrs. Mary Resh, program specialist for Trade and Industrial Education for the U.S. Office of Education; Miss Mary Marks, program specialist for the Distributive Education Division of the U.S. Office of Education, and Miss Augusta Clawson, special assistant to the Director of the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

The representatives met with local employers and women's clubs Thursday to explore vocations for which women might be trained and in which they may obtain employment. They also met with vocational directors of the State Department of Education in regard to possible training programs. They are considering ways in which Marshall may be utilized in the area redevelopment program.

Some Senators Accuse Group Of Leftist Ties

By JIM CASTO
Staff Reporter

After a discussion marked by charges of communism and leftist leanings, the Student Senate voted last Wednesday night not to participate in a meeting of the United States National Student Association (USNSA).

A bill, introduced by the Appropriations and Budget Committee, proposed that the Senate appropriate $50 to send delegates to a regional conference of the USNSA in Gettysburg, Pa.

After the bill was read, the Appropriations and Budget Committee recommended that the Senate vote against it. They stated that in their opinion Marshall would not benefit from attending the conference.

CHARGES HURLED

Debate on the bill was marked by charges that the USNSA is a Communist or Communist-orientated organization, that it is controlled by a small group of individuals, and that it is un-American in concept.

David Ballard, Ashland, Ky., senior, stated that at the last USNSA convention only 19 out of the 97 resolutions supposedly passed actually came to the floor. He stated that some typical examples of the type of resolutions passed were measures condemning the U.S. role in the Cuban invasion and the activities of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Several Senators referred to a report of the activities of the USNSA being prepared by Judy Butler, Huntington senior. This report is being compiled at the request of the Student Body President Nancy Wood. It hasn't been submitted yet. Miss Butler was not present at the Senate meeting.

SENATE VOTED 21-0

The Senate vote against the bill was 21-0. Two Senators, however, abstained from voting. One of them, Bill Harman, Huntington junior, commented "I don't think we can vote for or against this organization until we know the facts. I'd like to know more about this group before I take any action."

When contacted by The Parthenon, Paul Alexander Jr., instructor in political science and adviser to the Student Senate, commented: "Perhaps the most significant criticism leveled in the Senate against the USNSA was that it opposed the House Un-American Committee. I can only commend the USNSA for favoring the abolition of the House Committee."

"The investigating power of the committee supposedly has some legislative purpose, but no significant legislation has ever come out of its investigations. Along with organizations such as the John Birch Society, the House Committee stresses the idea that internal subversion by Communists is more serious than the external threat of communism. This obviously is not the case."

PROCEDURES RAPPED

"While a committee of Congress is not required to follow the judicial procedures of the federal courts, the House Committee on Un-American Activities, in the opinion of many, does not have a decent regard in its procedures for the freedoms of Americans under the Bill of Rights, particularly the First amendment."

"Thus the fact that USNSA has opposed the existence of the House Un-American Activities Committee is in itself not necessarily a discredit to the USNSA."

In a telephone conversation with the secretary of the USNSA national headquarters in Philadel-

Group In Clear, U. S. Aide Says

Frank S. Travenner Jr., an administrative assistant to the House Committee on Un-American Activities, wrote Sept. 29, 1961, to the USNSA: "The United States National Student Association has not been cited as being subversive by any official Federal agency."

"This organization has never been the subject of a hearing, or even of any testimony before this committee. The few references which appear in committee publications do not contain sufficient information to characterize the association in any way."

phia, The Parthenon was told that the USNSA has been officially cleared by both the House Un-American Activities Committee and the Justice Department of all charges of subversion. The FBI in Huntington said the USNSA is not on the attorney general's list.

The current student president of USNSA is Edward Garvey, who graduated from the University of Wisconsin in the spring of 1961. At Wisconsin, Garvey was president of the student body.

Serving on the present National Advisory Board of the USNSA are: Dr. Eugene Fontinell (chairman), a member of the faculty of Queens College; John Cogley, representative from the Fund for the Republic; Rev. T. M. Hesburgh, the president of Notre Dame; Russell Kirk, the University Bookman; Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution; Robert Shaffer, dean of students at Indiana University; and Milton Shapp, president of the Jerrold Electric Co.

Past members of the board included Ralph Bunche, Reinhold Niebuhr, Walter Reuther, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt and Harold E. Stassen.

Fire Alarm False

A fire alarm, reported for Old Main, was answered by the Huntington Fire Department at noon Monday. After a thorough investigation, officials decided the report was false, according to Capt. B. W. Ellis of the fire department.

Capt. Ellis said an anonymous caller reported a fire on the second floor of the building. The call came through the department's main switchboard which made it impossible to identify the person responsible he concluded.

HOLIDAY WORKERS SOUGHT

Robert P. Alexander, Director of Placement, reports that employers are now seeking students to work during the Christmas season. Students desiring holiday employment should check with the placement office as soon as possible.

ARA Fact Finders Meet Here

MEMBERS OF A federal fact finding team of the Area Redevelopment Administration program designed for the training of women were honored Friday at a coffee in Northcott Hall. From left are Miss Pauline Stout, state supervisor for home economics; Miss Augusta H. Clawson, of the Women's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor; S. P. McMillen, state director of vocational education; Mrs. Mary S. Resh of the U. S. Office of Education; Miss Edna Amidon of the U. S. Office of Education; Miss Mary Marks of the U. S. Office of Education; and Miss Louise Burnette, chairman of the University Home Economics Department. Serving is Mrs. William Blenko Jr., Milton senior.

CCF, Sig Eps Presenting Thanksgiving Program

The Campus Christian Fellowship and the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity worked together to put on the Thanksgiving program which was held at 11:30 yesterday at the ODK Circle. The theme of the program was "We Give Thee Thanks", which was carried out in the talks given by three students.

Paul Beckett, Huntington junior, spoke on national security. Spiritual gifts was given by Janet Steele, Stirrat junior. And Rucker Wickline, Barboursville senior, talked on the physical blessings of life.

The 100th Psalm was given as the Call to Worship by John Anderson, Huntington junior.

Jim Kincaid, Huntington junior, lead the audience in singing "Come Ye Thankful People Come."

Next, was the prayer of Thanksgiving by Lily W. Naylor, Clendenin sophomore.

And the closing prayer was given by Lois Brown, Huntington junior and chaplain of the Student Government.

The Symphonic Choir sang two special musical numbers. They were Exultate Deo by de Palestrina, and Psalm 100 by Heinrich Schutz.

Armco Photo Contest Is Won By Indian IN STEP Trainee

N. N. Sahoo, one of 12 engineers from India studying at Marshall University under the Indian Steel Training Education Program (IN STEP), has won top award in the Armco Steel Company's photo contest.

The 26-year-old Indian from Cuttack in the state of Orissa, competed with approximately 90 others who had entered the contest sponsored by the Ashland, Ky., plant of Armco. He won the all-around excellence trophy.

Sahoo entered 36 black and white prints and 18 colored slides in 10 of the 11 photographic sections.

Sahoo has been interested in photography since he was 18 years old. He is a member of the photographic club of Calcutta and has won numerous awards.

The 13 IN STEP trainees will be leaving Huntington Dec. 1 or 2, Program Co-ordinator John Sayre said.

Junior Takes Tobacco Title

Judy Turner, Huntington junior, went on to win the Miss West Virginia Tobacco Queen title Friday night at Huntington City Hall after winning the Cabell County Tobacco Queen title Tuesday.

Donna Sturgeon, representative of Mason County, was runner-up. Other contestants were Carol Barr, Wayne County; Ann Lu Curry, Lincoln County, and Pam Hanson, Putnam County.

Miss Turner will compete in the National Tobacco Queen contest in Richmond, Va., in September. Judges for the state contest were Mickey Roth and Jon Light of WSAZ television and Miss Ann Connolly of WHTN.

The contestants were interviewed at a dinner at the Governor Cabell Hotel Friday evening before the contest. They were judged on the interview, an evening gown appearance and talent.

Miss Turner did an interpretive dance to the song, "Tequila."

EVERY
STUDENT needs this

to increase his ability to learn

An understanding of the truth contained in Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy can remove the pressure which concerns today's college student upon whom increasing demands are being made for academic excellence.

Christian Science calms tear and gives to the student the full assurance he needs in order to learn easily and to evaluate what he has learned. It teaches that God is man's Mind—his only Mind—from which emanates all the intelligence he needs, when and as he needs it.

Science and Health, the textbook of Christian Science, may be read or examined, together with the Bible, in an atmosphere of quiet and peace, at any Christian Science Reading Room. Information about Science and Health may also be obtained on campus through the

FSEE Test Given To Sixty Persons

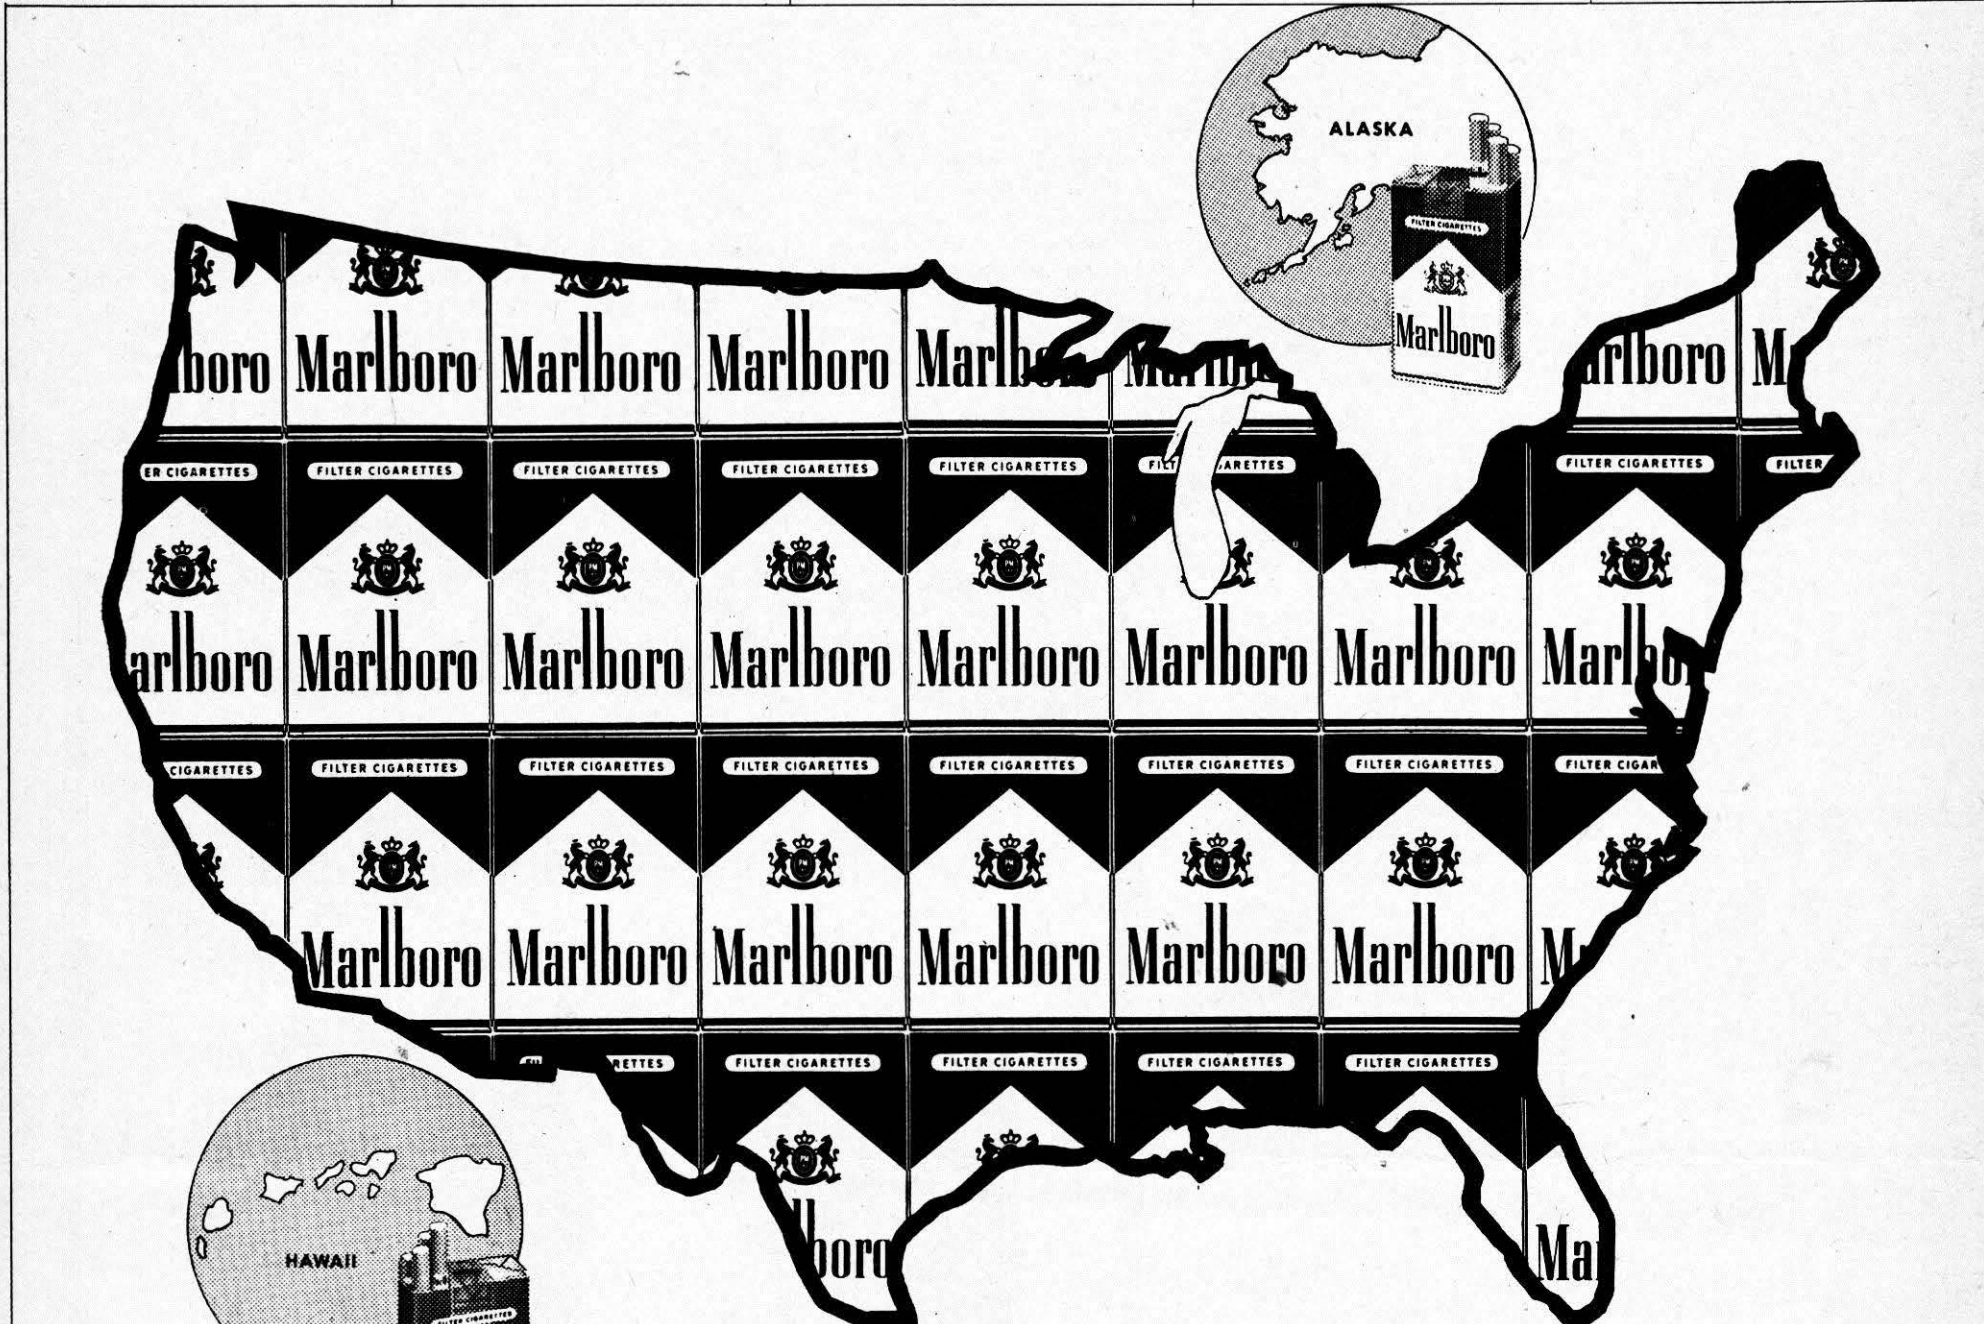

The Federal Service Entrance Examination was administered to approximately 60 persons last Saturday morning in the Science Hall Auditorium. Of the 88 persons scheduled to take the exam, 80% were Marshall Students, according to Robert Alexander, director of the Placement Office.

The examination consisted of segments, dealing with verbal abilities, mathematics, symbol recognition, and a written theme about what each person wanted in a career and what they expected to accomplish in a ten-year employment span.

FSEE is a general examination designed to qualify persons for careers in a wide variety of fields in the federal government. Once a examinee passes the test, he is notified by letter as to his status and his name is placed on a roster of eligible job applicants for a period of 22 months.

In line with the FSEE is the management internship trainee examination which picks out those persons who are interested and have the ability to fill executive positions with the agency of his choice. This examination was given to interested parties last Saturday after the completion of the other examination.

Profiles Of The Week

John Sword

John "Jodie" Sword is a 20-year-old native of Wheelwright, Ky., and attended Wheelwright High School.

Sword, a five-foot nine-inch, 150-pound sophomore, was one of the leading scorers on last year's freshman squad. He plays guard, is a fine ball handler, a good shot, and a good defensive player.

Tom Dennis

Tom Dennis is a six-foot one-inch sophomore from Pompano Beach High School, Pompano Beach, Fla.

Dennis is 19 years old, weighs 165 pounds, and plays at the guard position. He is a very smooth ball-player who is not considered a standout in the lineup, but always seems to get his job done.

Big Green Closes Season With Win

By SAM WOOLWINE
Sports Writer

The Marshall University "Big Green" ended their season Saturday at Ashland, Kentucky, as they defeated Eastern Kentucky, 20-0, in the second annual Shrine Bowl game.

The Marshall team wasted little time in getting the "fireworks" going. Ralph May intercepted an Eastern pass on the Eastern 44 yard line on the first play from scrimmage. Six plays later, May hit end Malcolm Price with a 23 yard touchdown pass. Jim Keatley added the extra point and the Big Green led 7 to 0.

The second score came in the second quarter as the result of a 62 yard drive when May spotted halfback Millard Fleming alone in the end zone and fired him a 23 yard pass.

Marshall's last score came in the final quarter when halfback Jasper Wright grabbed a 53 yard pass and sped for the score. Keatley's P.A.T. was good and the Big Green led 20 to 0.

Coach Charlie Snyder praised the defensive work of the Marshall team as they held the Eastern attack to 92 yards on the ground and 91 yards through the air. Coach Snyder also pointed out that the score could have been bigger. The "Big Green" fumbled once on the two yard line and had one touch down called back because of a penalty.

Although Marshall ended the season with a 2-7-1 record, identical to last seasons record, Coach Snyder was fairly well pleased.

"The boys gave me a 'hundred percent' at all times and that's all I ask for. We could very easily have won our last three games".

The "Big Green" lost 11 seniors, but six starters return next year as well as players from the freshman team.

Coach Snyder indicated that he hopes to field enough talent for two units next year. "If some of the players from this years freshman team can come through next year, we'll be in good shape as far as two units are concerned."

Coach Snyder also indicated disappointment over the loss of the seniors.

The eleven seniors who bowed out Saturday were co-captains Rucker Wickline and Ralph May, Dixon Edwards, Jim Michel, Jim Yoho, Jim Keatley, Malcolm Price, Dick Thomas, Harper Hill, Bill Narbo, and Stan Smith.

PLAYERS OF THE week for the Eastern Kentucky game are: left; Ralph May, quarterback; right; Malcolm Price, end. Their outstanding play contributed to Marshall's second win of the season.
